WEATHER REPORTS.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., Feb, 20, (4:35, P. M.,) 1871.

Synopsis of Weather Reports for the past 24 Hours : The Barometer still continues north of and over the lakes, as reported this morning. The pressure has diminished on the Gulf and South Atlantic coast. There is no decided upper current of wind over the Eastern States, but a northwest current prevails in the far west, where a rapid diminution of pressure is reported, and a slight increase of temperature and high southerly winds on the upper lakes are brisk. Probabilities .

It is probable that a storm is rising in the northwest, and will move south and east. Frosh southerly winds are indicated for to-morrow on the Gulf, brisk easterly winds on the lakes, and fair weather on the Atlantic Dangerous.

There is a dilapidated building on the north side of Front street, between State and Crozier, which is really dangerous. The street has been cut down perpendicularly until the house is now resting on the edge of the bluff, which will cave after a severe rain, probably, and loss of life might ensue if the building is occupied. Better pull it down before it falls, and save the corporation a suit for damages.

Passing by Van Gilder's boot and shoe house vesterday, we saw conspicuously displayed some of the finest button boots and shoes for ladies, misses and children ever brought to this market, which are sold cheaper than ever before. A Serious and Painful Accident.

It is with sincere sorrow that we announce that on returning from visiting his sick sister, yesterday, Mr. William Rule, one of the editors and proprietors of the CHRONICLE, was suddenly and violently thrown from a horse belonging to Mr. Bell, of this city, near the house of Col. invariably tells upon the liver. exact nature of his injuries. From the best in- I look panic-struck?" formation we can gather, his horse jumped suddenly to one side of the road, and threw him with great force upon his head. The horse, looking better." which was an exceedingly vicious one, in passing over him, must have kicked him, as a deep cut of some length on the back of his head could hardly have been made in any other way. The force of the fall was first received on the left and front side of his head. Some parties near the road saw the horse jump and him fall. The concussion stunned him, as he lay unconscious for some time after the accident. About eleven o'clock, he was removed by a special train on sent out by President O'Conner, to his home in the city, where he rested the remainder of the day as quietly as could be expected. He became conscious soon after the accident, but is unable to explain how it happened, as the first he remembers was finding himself in bed badly hurt. He complained last night of pain in his side, a sprained wrist, and general soreness, but on the whole was doing very well. His head pains him much, and his left eye is about swollen shut. Drs. Boynton and James Rodgers, who attend him, think the only danger now to fear is from secondary inflammation. It wil this can be averted, he will soon recover. We know the many readers of the CHRONICLE will. one and all, wish, as we most prayerfully do, his tion. There is considerable inquiry just now speedy recovery. THE COURTS.

"No; by Jove!" was the reply; "you look in trim to fight for a man's life. Never saw you plained of, and then the trade will improve.

"Let me tell you a secret, my boy," returned the great operator; "I drink no wine, no brandy, no barroom stimulant of any kind; but I just keep my stamina up with an occasional dose of Plantation Bitters, and if you'll do me the favor to try it for that bile on the stomach you're always complaining of, I'll furnish the margin for your next spec., if it doesn't cure you."

If shipped in large quantities, and the demand is still active. Corn is drooping, and dealers are not doing much beyond filling orders at quota-

The season for dried fruit has about closed, the supply being nearly exhausted. The same may be said of green apples; prime lots, however, would doubtless bring $1 per bushel, packed for shipment. Many persons say that they have tried almost every remedy that has been recommended for humors, and they are no better now than when they commenced them, and they have no confidence in anything that is advertised to cure Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, and all similar humors. We would say to these that there is now a remedy that as yet has never failed of curing those diseases. It acts upon an entirely different principle from anything ever offered for them; it throws humor out of the blood through the skin, which is the only channel through which the system can be entirely freed from them. If you will try it, you will not say of this as you have by the others, for it will cure you. We refer to Dr. Weaver's Salt Rheum Syrup.
